OUR NEW LOOK CAFÉ COMING SOON!

BIGGER CAFÉ

Our new Café extension is now well under way. It's another energy saving construction by local builders, Forest Eco of Coleford, and will double the size of our current Café.

Over the years we've listened carefully to all the constructive comments that our visitors have left on our feedback cards and we've taken these on board to make improvements to our facilities.

Comfortable sofas and armchairs and a wood burning stove will give the Café a relaxing and homely ambience. To compliment the construction of the original building the Café extension will have exposed oak beams and oak flooring with doors opening onto a paved outdoor seating area. We're aiming to have everything completed by the middle of October and we will, of course, keep you informed. In the meantime, so you can still sit and enjoy the amazing views across to the River Severn, we've temporarily moved our outdoor seating area to just outside the front entrance to the shop.

ON THE FARM

The wet weather conditions at the beginning of the year forced us to keep the dairy herd indoors for 6 weeks longer than we normally would, using up valuable food stock of the grass that we cut and store throughout the year.

It's called silage and during the summer months we continuously cut and store the nutritious grass to replenish supplies that will see us through the winter.

Not so this year it seems! With the dry sunny weather farmers like ourselves, all across the country, are being forced to dip deeply into the silage that has been earmarked for winter feed.

It's a scientific art being a farmer these days!

Kind regards,

Lyndon, Maria, Harriet
& our award winning team

MEET THE TEAM

Anne Williams has been working with us as a chef in our kitchen for over 4 years.

Here she is making up some of our delicious beef and stilton pasties, but she says that her firm favourite is our traditional West Country traditional pasties.

Anne's hobbies include crafts, DIY, gardening, travel, breeding pigs and cooking for her family.

Winner of our latest monthly lunch for two draw is Ruth Marks from Lydney

OUTSTANDING CONTRIBUTION

Lyndon was honoured to be recognised for his outstanding contribution to the dairy industry when he was presented with the prestigious Dairy UK award by noted journalist Andrew Neil.

Lyndon had just heard that he had also been made a Fellow of the Royal Agricultural Society.

BIRTHDAY COMPETITION

It's our fifth birthday at Hanley Farm Shop and we're giving away a Hanley Hamper of goodies to celebrate.

All you have to do to enter is fill in a form in the shop and guess how many calves will be born on the farm during August. The nearest guess wins!
